Activities

Faculty of Social Sciences, Economics and Law offers varied, multidisciplinary training which is open to international and current affairs.

Its state degrees in social and economic sciences and in law and political science are particularly original: the faculty offers its degree students an individual guidance system (methodology, advice and orientation) and specifically prepares them for oral presentation and creating summaries. Faculty of Social Sciences, Economics and Law also offers 12 professional master's degrees in Sustainable Development, Human Resources, International Relations, Political Science, Humanitarianism and Solidarity, Geoeconomics, Geopolitics, International Educational Action, etc. Feel free to join us!
