Activities

Founded in 1875, the Faculty of Liberal Arts offers Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Arts, Languages and Civilizations, History and Political Science, History and Geography, Art History, Information and Communication.

ICP's Faculty of Liberal Arts offers a wide range of multi-disciplinary courses with a cultural and international outlook.

It prepares students for state diplomas, while retaining program autonomy, which is what makes the ICP intellectually and spiritually unique.

Combining university courses and preparation for competitive examinations, the Faculty of Liberal Arts is developing cooperation with other universities, both French and foreign, to give its students and teachers the opportunity to experiment with new teaching methods and new contacts with international research.

Last but not least, the Languages Department enables students to take courses in the language(s) they wish to study, perfect or discover (Arabic, Chinese, English, German, Italian, Portuguese, Russian, Korean, Latin, Ancient Greek), in a group corresponding to their level.

Key figures
