Erasmus+ and disability

The Erasmus + program provides special care including additional costs for disabled participants and those accompanying them.

Learn French

We remind all partner universities that they are required to test their own students' level of spoken and written French prior to sending their applications, and to acknowledge that it is sufficient for them to study their discipline successfully during their stay at the Catholic University of Paris. The university's French language school, the Institut de Langue et Culture Françaises, organises monthly intensive courses in May, June, July, August and January. These courses can lead to a number of 4 ECTS credits.

List of Courses & ECTS

All courses offered and corresponding ECTS credits are presented by degree : 1st, 2nd, 3rd year of Licence (Undergraduate) and 1st, 2nd year of Master (Postgraduate).

Most of the courses are taught in French, but our Faculties also offer some courses in English, opened to Exchange Students.
